JON BORODACH

Music Director & Conductor, Boulder Concert Band

Jon Borodach has enjoyed a diverse career as a conductor, educator, instrumentalist, and arranger working with adult and young adult musicians. Before joining the Boulder Concert Band, Mr. Borodach was a student of Dr. Kenneth Singleton at the University of Northern Colorado, where he is in the final phase of completing his Doctor of Arts degree. While at UNC, Mr. Borodach served as the conductor of the Symphonic Band following the retirements of Dr. Singleton and Dr. Richard Mayne and he has worked closely with the current UNC Director of Bands, Dr. Wesley Broadnax. “I count these three men among my strongest musical mentors and good friends,” commented Jon.

From 2011 to 2018, Mr. Borodach was Principal Conductor and Music Director of the Thornton Community Band, programming engaging and enriching concerts for audiences from the North Metro area. “I greatly enjoy working with adult musicians who gather together simply to play music and to enjoy the shared experience of artistry, camaraderie and friendship,” declared Jon.

Born and raised in Southern California, Mr. Borodach was the Director of Instrumental Music at Grossmont High School in La Mesa, San Diego County, California. Under his baton, the Grossmont ensembles consistently earned Superior ratings at regional music festivals and contests. During his tenure at GHS, Mr. Borodach led student ensembles on concert tours of Washington D.C., Philadelphia, New York and San Francisco. Graduates from the Grossmont High School music program have earned scholarships to study music at the University of North Texas, the University of Nebraska, the University of Arizona, the University of California at Los Angeles and at several California State University campuses.

From 2001 to 2004 Mr. Borodach served as the Associate Conductor of the San Diego Wind Ensemble, a group comprising freelance professional musicians. Mr. Borodach has served as adjudicator and clinician for the Southern California School Band Orchestra Association and as a Master Teacher for prospective music educators from Point Loma Nazarene University and San Diego State University.

Mr. Borodach also has extensive musical theater experience as a conductor and pit musician working with theater companies in the San Diego area. Mr. Borodach holds Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from San Diego State University.

Mr. Borodach is committed to performing the highest quality works in the wind band repertoire. He has been a champion of new music, performing several new works by young composers as well having been pivotal in the commissioning of new music by renowned composers, including “Some Give All” by David Holsinger, “Give Us This Day” by David Maslanka, and “Baron La Croix’s Shuffle” by Donald Grantham. Mr. Borodach makes his home in Fort Collins, Colorado with his wife, Kara, and two daughters, Madeleine and Rebecka.

A National Award-Winning Band

The Boulder Concert Band

The illustrious history of the Boulder Concert Band traces back to the ICC Silver Cornet Band of 1870, which performed weekly concerts in the pioneer town of Boulder. In 1897, the larger Boulder Citizen's Band was formed, said to be the best of its type in Colorado. Its successor, the Boulder Municipal Band, was the first to include women musicians. Today's Boulder Concert Band was organized in 1978 by Hugh McMillen, former Director of Bands at the University of Colorado. One of the foremost adult community bands in the United States, the Boulder Concert Band comprises all-volunteer musicians from the Boulder, Longmont and Denver metro areas.

The Boulder Concert Band endeavors to give back to our community in numerous ways. Several of our musicians have formed small ensembles which perform for private and community events. The Boulder Concert Band provides outstanding performances of traditional and new concert literature, concert band classics and contributions from guest artists, and offers a community organization for adults who wish to continue to play their instruments after high school or college. In the summer, we offer fare suitable for family gatherings in Boulder's beautiful city parks, a patriotic concert in Louisville on the 4th of July and a private concert at the Frasier Meadows Retirement Community.

We welcome you and hope you enjoy tonight's performance!
